818 Market Street, along with the 22nd and 31st Degrees. In the earlier reunions, degrees ranging from the 4th to the 18th have taught many useful moral lessons which include trustworthiness, fidelity to duty, integrity, charity and leadership. Certain analytical skills that establish values such as good citizenship, delineation of good over evil, and application of the law of love were also studied in these degrees.

A continuing journey from the 19th through the 32nd Consistory Degrees will focus the individual’s attention on a belief in God, the importance of Justice, and the duty of Freemasons to answer the call of duty to serve mankind.

It is my sincere hope that the further Masonic Light communicated in these degrees will augment the teachings of the Symbolic Lodge Degrees and enable our candidates to become better men and Masons.

Fraternally,
